SALZER'S FAMOUS OLD DUTCH BREEDER TULIPS

THE ARISTOCRATS OF THE TULIP WORLD

DISTINCTIVE BLOOMS

INIMITABLE COLORS

Old Dutch Breeders form a distinct class by themselves, being "unbroken" forms of the old time "Florist" tulips.

They have been grown in Holland for centuries, but it is only within recent years that they have become known and appreciated in America, and now they bid fair to rival the Darwin tulips in popularity. Discarded by their originators, the old Dutch gardeners, because they had no stripes or feathers, they were more or less neglected and grown only in some obscure corners, until a taste for the so called "art colors" awakened, when they came into their well-deserved popularity.

Their majestic size, remarkable colors, and great lasting qualities make them unusually suited for garden decoration. Every lover of the more somber shades cannot fail to revel in the rich and artistic blendings of purple and old gold, bronze and terra cotta, brown and violet, and buff and maroon found among the stately and aristocratic Breeders. They are late to bloom, but equal, and sometimes surpass, the Darwins in size and vigor, although lacking the color brilliancy of the latter. The flowers are, many of them, sweet scented, and as they retain their color and form for a long time, are splendidly adapted for cutting.

Plant five or six inches deep and not less than five inches apart. In preparing the ground, it is well to fertilize with Bonemeal (three handfuls to a square yard) thoroughly mixing with the soil. Protect over winter with a covering of leaves or straw. Figures after each variety indicate the height in inches.

SALZER'S SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

The single, early kinds of tulips begin to flower in April and although not as tall as the May-flowering types, the most of them produce flowers as large and colors equally as wonderful. Tulips require cultural treatment similar to Hyacinths, but as the bulbs are smaller they should not be planted so deep. When planting, fertilize with two handfuls of bone meal per square yard. Never use fresh stable manure, but well-rotted manure will prove beneficial. For indoor culture, plant about 6 bulbs in a 6-inch pot or pan, treating the same as Hyacinths. The figures after each variety indicate the height in inches.

I know from experience that your bulbs can be highly recommended. Have given your catalog to neighbors, and they are ordering also.

Mrs. Viola L. Pratt, Jackson, Wyoming.

SALZER'S GIANT DARWIN TULIPS

The chief characteristics of the Darwin sorts are the perfect cup-shape of the flowers, the fleshy substantial petals, tall stems and bright colors. They bloom in May, and in coloring embrace almost every conceivable shade of almost jet black, crimson, scarlet, purple to mauve, and other rare tints. Yellow is the one color missing and this can be supplied from the Cottage varieties. For outdoors, plant not less than 5 inches apart and 5 to 6 inches deep.

Salzer's Giant Darwin Tulips

COTTAGE OR MAY-FLOWERING TULIP

Also blooming in May, this type differs from the Darwins in that the blooms are either oval or pointed, many with reflexed petals, and they flower a few days later. Many of them are sweet scented, and they will bloom in the same position for 3 or 4 years without being disturbed. Plant about 4 inches deep. For indoor culture, keep in a temperature of about 55 degrees, until matured. They are easily grown, and we urge a trial of these beauties.

SALZER'S EXTRA SELECT DUTCH HYACINTHS

Outdoor Culture—Autumn, and not Springtime, is the proper time to plant not only these, but also the other beautiful flowering bulbs listed in this catalog. Hyacinths may be planted any time from October to December in any good, well-drained garden soil. Plant them so the tops will be three to four inches below the surface and 6 to 10 inches apart. Cover the beds with straw or leaves, and do not remove the covering in spring until danger from hard frost is past.

Indoor Culture in Pots.—Any time from September to December, plant singly in four or five-inch pots filled with light, rich soil. Or plant several bulbs in a larger pot or pan. Place the bulbs so that the tops are about half an inch below the surface of the soil. Water well and set away in a cool cellar, covering with three or four inches of coal ashes, sand, or litter until thoroughly rooted. After about six weeks they may be brought into a well lighted, cool room until the flower spikes are developed, after which they may be brought into any warmer room.

Culture in Glasses—Place the bulbs in the glasses so that only the base touches the water, using clear, soft water. Then place the glasses in a cool cellar, or cool, dark closet until filled with roots, after which bring into the light. A small piece of charcoal placed in each glass will keep the water pure and sweet. Keep in a cool room until the spikes are well developed. If they are brought from the cellar at once into a warm room, the flowers will bloom prematurely.

SALZER'S GIANT CROCUS

Salzer's King of the White Crocus

This lovely spring flower is perfectly hardy, it will thrive almost anywhere, and can be left in the ground for several years without being disturbed. An effective method of planting is to scatter them over the lawn by digging up a small piece of sod here and there, putting in one or two bulbs $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch deep and replacing the sod. In spring the tops can be safely cut along with the grass when your first mowing is made. Also effective in beds, or borders. For house culture, plant 6 or 8 in a 5-inch pot, or place in water and pebbles, using just enough pebbles to prevent their toppling over.

Price of Crocus as follows, except where noted: Dozen, 35c; 25 for 64c; 50 for $1.18; 100 for $2.15; 500 for $10.45, postpaid.

KING OF THE WHITE. Pure white, massive flowers.

Chinese Sacred Lily

Freesia Hybrids

CHINESE SACRED LILY

Although the flower is popularly called a Lily it is a Narcissus of the Polyanthus type. It is grown by the Chinese from time immemorial to decorate their temples or Joss houses on their New Year's day, which occurs in February.

They succeed everywhere and with everybody. The Chinese Lilies are usually grown in bowls or dishes of water. Put an inch or two of sand and gravel in the dish in which they are to be grown, set the bulbs on this and put enough pebbles around them to keep them from falling over; then fill the dish with water and set in a dark place for a few days, bringing them to the light when the roots have started freely.

Not ready for shipment until October, and if planted then will flower by Christmas. Order early.

Large Bulbs: Each, 30c; 3 for 85c; 6 for $1.65; dozen, $3.20; 50 for $12.50, postpaid.

SALZER'S FREESIA

Freesias are most popular for pot culture, flowering in the winter and spring in the conservatory, or window garden; 6 to 8 bulbs should be planted in a 4-inch pot. They force readily and can be had in bloom by Christmas if desired, and by having a dozen or more pots started in the cold frame they can be brought in at intervals, thereby keeping up a continuous display of bloom through the winter; the flowers are produced 6 to 8 on stems about 9 inches high. Unlike most other bulbs, they should not be kept in the dark.

PURITY (Refracta Alba.) A distinct and greatly improved type producing large sprays of purest, snow white flowers of immense size and deliciously fragrant; it is very free blooming and of great value for forcing for cut flowers. Doz., 58c; 25 for $1.09; 50 for $2.05; 100 for $4.00; 500 for $18.95, postpaid.

GEN. PERSHING—A magnificent shade of pink. Doz., 75c; 25 for $1.45; 50 for $2.75; 100 for $5.20, postpaid.

LAVERENDER—Something new. Rich shade of lavender. Doz., 75c; 25 for $1.45; 50 for $2.75; 100 for $5.20, postpaid.

BUTTERCUP—Large flowers of bright golden-yellow. Extra fine. Doz., 65c; 25 for $1.20; 50 for $2.20; 100 for $4.25; 500 for $20.50, postpaid.

FREESIA HYBRIDS or Rainbow Collection.

One of the most important and valuable floral novelties of the last years. These strikingly beautiful sweet scented flowers are delightfully colored in delicate hues of pink, red, violet, blue, orange, mauve, etc.

Doz., 60c; 25 for $1.12; 50 for $2.10; 100 for $4.15; 500 for $19.95, postpaid.

This magnificent lily is undoubtedly the best for winter forcing as it requires but a short time to bring it into bloom and can be made to flower at any desired period; it is also of the easiest culture and always sure to produce an abundance of bloom. LONGIFLORUM, GIGANTEUM, (Japanese Easter Lily)—This variety with its beautiful, pure white, fragrant, trumpet-shaped flowers, which are six to eight inches long, is preferred by some to the Bermuda Lily. It does not come into bloom as early, but the flowers are of better substance; a splendid variety for growing in pots for Easter flowering and also very desirable for outdoor planting, being quite hardy. The plants grow two to three feet high and when planted outdoors will bloom in June and July; can be planted in spring if received too late in fall. Bulbs, 7 to 9 inches in circumference. It is widely used for indoor culture, especially for churches at Easter time. Also, known as "St. Joseph's Lily." To succeed with it out of doors, it should be planted early in the autumn, so that it can make some growth before frost. If undisturbed, they will grow for years. Give the bulbs a light dusting with powdered sulphur, and do not cover with more than two inches of soil. Height, 3 to 4 feet. Blooms in June. LILY CULTURE

Most lily bulbs, being of late maturity, are not ready for shipment before October to November (the best time to plant them). It is advisable to prepare your beds before cold weather and to then cover them with 4 inches of litter, to prevent the ground from freezing. This permits planting the late maturing kinds. Plant in a rather shady situation, covering the bulbs three times their own depth. Protect from severe cold with leaves or litter and do not remove this in Spring until danger from frost is past.

For pot culture, plant immediately upon arrival. See that the pot is well-drained and place the bulb half-way down in the pot, just covering it with soil. When stem roots appear above the bulb, keep adding more soil as a top dressing for these roots to feed upon. Until the roots have been thoroughly developed, keep in a cool place and covered with straw. After about a month, bring into a temperature of 66 degrees, let the plants grow slowly under a bench or table till 6 inches high, then place on top of bench in full light.

For Potted House Plants Dissolve a rounded teaspoonful in a cup of hot water, pour this into a gallon of cool water and you are ready to feed your plants. For a plant in a six inch pot, a pint every few days until you see a decided improvement, then use every month or so.

Cut Flowers Drop a pinch of Watch-em-Grow powder in the water. It will make the bouquet last longer and will be worth the price of the food.

In Potting When you change the soil of pot plants, mix a teaspoonful of Watch-em-Grow with a gallon of soil before you set the plants.

For Your Garden Both flowers and vegetables will be greatly benefited if Watch-em-Grow in the same solution as recommended for house plants is sprinkled over the seeds before they are covered. Then, during the growing season, if you have any backward plants, treat them just like we suggested for house plants. You will notice the difference in a few days.

Send us 10 cents for a large trial package of Watch-em-Grow Plant Food, with directions for using. After using the contents, you can send us the empty package and only forty cents and receive one regular fifty-cent can of Watch-em-Grow Plant Food. This makes the trial package cost you nothing in the end.

Large Trial Package only 10 cents; Big Eight-Ounce Can 50 cents, postpaid.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND MARKET GARDENERS SOW SALZER'S SEEDS

SALZER'S HARDY PERENNIAL FLOWER SEEDS

Sown this fall, and given a little protection in severe climates by a covering of leaves or straw, one may have an abundant supply of beautiful flowers not only early in 1927, but for years to come. Fall sowing is the principle which Nature uses. Seed dropped from parent plants will lay dormant in the soil until the following spring, when it germinates and begins a root system long before one is able to sow seed. Consequently, you obtain a much longer flowering season by fall planting. Sow the seed anytime, the earlier the better, before the heavy frosts. Once sown and established, these hardy flowers will last for years. The following prices include postage.

CONDITION OF SALE ON FIELD SEEDS

Recognizing that our customers have the opportunity of securing analysis and germination of any and all field seeds, we, the John A. Salzer Seed Company, do not give, and our employees are forbidden to give, any warranty, expressed or implied, as to description, quality, productiveness, or any other matter of any seeds and potatoes we send out and we will not be in any way responsible for the crop. If the purchaser does not accept the goods on these terms, they must at once be returned and money will be refunded.

NORTHERN GROWN TIMOTHY

In this country Timothy is the king of all grasses. It is the most important of all hay grasses and is adapted to a wider range of conditions than any other variety of grass. It certainly is the hardiest of all our grasses; no other kind will stand the extremes of heat and cold better than this one; no other variety equals it in average yields, nor does any other variety excel it in feeding value. It luxuriates on clay and moist soil and is unsurpassed on peat, but is not so well suited for light sandy soils. It flowers in July and should be cut when in full bloom, as if left until later the hay becomes hard and course. The hay is very nourishing and can be preserved for a long time; it is greedily eaten by all cattle, and horses are especially fond of it. On average soils it is frequently sown along with common Red and Mammoth Clover, and on lower soils generally with Alsike. For pasture it cannot be well recommended as if sown alone its growth is not thrifty enough and close pasturing is very injurious to it. For pasturing, therefore, it should be sown along with other grasses, and we have added it to most of our Clover Grass mixtures wherever possible. Timothy is one of the most certain grasses to grow. It attains the height of its productiveness already in the first year after being sown. It has proven itself well adapted to the Northwest and seldom fails to make a good stand on prairie soil when sown under suitable conditions. Fall is the best time to plant Timothy. Height 2 to 4 feet. If sown alone, use one-quarter bushel per acre.

4717—Radium: Lb., 25c, postpaid. Not prepaid: 5 lbs., 75c; 10 lbs., $1.35. See also current price list.

B ALSIKE AND TIMOTHY MIXTURE

B Alsike and Timothy Mixture contains about 50 per cent Alsike and 50 per cent Timothy; our seed is grown in this neighborhood where most of the farmers grow this mixed seed in preference to other grasses and clovers, as the two varieties are adapted for the same kind of soil, mature at the same time and produce a larger crop of hay or seed than either planted alone. If you plan to grow for hay, then the Alsike-Timothy Mixture will give you splendid satisfaction, and is much cheaper than Alsike sown alone. Sow 8 to 12 lbs. per acre.

4225—Lb., 30c, postpaid. Not prepaid: 5 lbs., $1.20; 10 lbs., $2.10. See current price list for larger quantities.

Brome Grass is generally conceded the best for permanent pasture, as it positively flourishes under the tramping of stock. It is extremely rich in flesh producing and milk increasing ingredients. A field will last a life time and no amount of cold will kill it. It roots deeply, often 4 to 6 feet. It makes the finest quality hay. It withstands extreme wet and severest drought. Sow about 20 pounds to the acre. Start a permanent pasture this Fall.

4319—Radium: Lb., 30c, postpaid. Not prepaid: 5 lbs., $1.10; 10 lbs., $2.00. See also current price list.

SALZER'S RED RUSSIAN BEARDED WINTER WHEAT

THIS IS THE HARDIEST WINTER WHEAT GROWN AND IS ADAPTED FOR ALL PARTS OF THE NORTHWEST

It withstands the rigors of vigorous northern winters, adverse weather conditions, extremes of temperature. Sown successfully everywhere in the Northwest. Thrives on low grounds and good, rich soils. Yielding invariably one-third more than spring wheat. A fine stooler. Seems to survive on alternate freezing and thawing throughout the fall and winter. Our seed is of an exceptionally hardy, vigorous, productive strain. Red Russian is a bearded variety of Turkey Red, with stiff, strong, erect, vigorous growing stalks. The heads are long, wide, large and well filled. The kernels are a beautiful reddish-amber color, plump and hard.

4757—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (15 lbs.), 65c. See current price list for larger quantities.

Salzer's Red Russian Winter Wheat

SALZER'S RED CROSS WINTER WHEAT

Introduced by us in 1894, true stock seed can only be obtained from us. In districts where Winter Wheat growing is a success we recommend it in preference to Spring Wheat. Experience has demonstrated that the yields are larger. Fall sowing relieves the rush of early spring farm work, solves the labor question, permits greater economy in farm operations. Try it this year. Sow Red Cross. It is a strong, healthy grower on light, sandy, gravelly clay loams or river bottoms; shoots up early in the spring. Does not lodge readily, is medium tall, stocky, strong, stiff, thick and attractive. Heads are beardless, very long, broad, well filled and do not yield to high winds. The kernels are rich red amber color, plump, uniform, hard, handsome and of finest milling quality. Owing to the natural tendency of Beardless Wheat to revert to original bearded parent stock, no beardless wheat types can be guaranteed to be absolutely free from some bearded heads.

4756—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (15 lbs.), 65c. See current price list for larger quantities.

KANRED WHEAT

One of the newer types of winter wheat yearly gaining in prominence. Kanred ripens one to four days ahead of Turkey Red and about the same time as Salzer's Red Russian. It is more resistant to winter killing. It is, however, as high yielding as either of above. It is bearded with hairless white chaff. It is very resistant to leaf rust and black stem rust. It compares favorably with Red Russian and Turkey Red in milling qualities. The kernels resemble in appearance the Turkey Red.

4761—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (15 lbs.), 65c. See current price list for larger quantities.

TURKEY RED WINTER WHEAT

Turkey Red is of widespread popularity throughout the Northwest and Canada, withstanding 25 to 30 degrees below zero.

Its peculiar fitness to extremes of climate and soil is also a predominant factor. From Oklahoma northward through Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Canada, it is one of the leading and standard varieties.

Turkey Red has a very hard, plump kernel of a dark red color. White chaff. It is a bearded variety, stiff straw, free stoller, big, long, wide heads, difficult to lodge.

4760—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (15 lbs.), 65c. See current price list for larger quantities.

Salzer's Famous Rosen Rye

WISCONSIN GROWN WINTER RYE

Winter Rye is one of the most valuable crops for all sections of the country, and it can be depended upon more than any other grain to always produce a good paying crop everywhere. It is more hardy than Wheat, seldom winterkills, is suited to cold climates and will mature even in Alaska, and hot, warm weather does not injure the plants.

Winter Rye is now beginning to be largely grown in all southern states, and is mostly used there for fall and spring pasturage, green fodder and green manuring. For grain it is mostly planted in the northern states and Wisconsin raises more Rye than any other state of the Union, Michigan is second and Minnesota third.

It can be grown on a great variety of soils, gives its greatest returns of course, on fertile ground, but is of the greatest value on account of its adaptability to light and poor and indifferent soils, where it will give fair crops when other cereals fail.

The straw of Rye is more slender and grows taller than Wheat, but owing to its extreme rigidity it does not crinkle and lodge easily. It starts to grow much earlier in spring than Winter Wheat and ripens a week earlier. It is troubled very little by insects and diseases as owing to its early development it is near maturity when insects and such diseases as blight, rust, etc., appear. Another great advantage of the Rye is that it aids in the control of many of our dangerous weeds, such as Wild Oats, Mustard, etc., as the grain will mature before the weeds, which will have no opportunity to mature their seeds before harvesting.

Rye can be sown in the south from July to November 15th; here in the north it is best to sow up to the 15th of September. If sown early, it is used for fall pasture.

Winter Rye is the best plant for GREEN MANURING on poor soils where Clover will not grow. It is plowed under about ten days before planting time so as to get all the growth possible before turning it under. After plowing, a heavy roller should be used to pack the soil down firmly. The green Rye has much nitrogenous matter which is readily available for the following crop. Sow at the rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ bushels per acre and cover about one inch deep.

ROSEN RYE

Michiganders claim this variety to be without exception the most spectacular grain introduction of the century. It certainly has leaped into prominence more rapidly than any other grain, with the possible exception of Marquis Wheat. In comparative and field tests the acreage yield of Rosen Rye runs well ahead of practically every other variety. In many districts the lowest yield per acre of Rosen Rye has exceeded the highest yield of other rye.

The kernels of Rosen usually run considerable larger than other ryes. It is unexcelled for flour purposes. Produces more flour per bushel. Has short, stiff straw. Does not easily lodge. Has a greater leaf surface. Has long, large, well filled heads. Kernels unusually plump.

4677—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (14 lbs.), 45c. See current price list for larger quantities.

PETKUS WINTER RYE

Petkus Rye is a variety of considerable prominence in Europe, where it is one of the foremost varieties. Its immense yields and extreme hardiness are the outstanding attributes that make it so popular. Weighs about 60 lbs. to measured bushel. It does well on most any kind of soil, grows about 5 to 6 feet high and bears medium sized heads of 4 to $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length, which are closely covered with grains. These kernels are very plump and large. The straw is stiff and tough and does not lodge.

4671—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (14 lbs.), 45c. See current price list for larger quantities.

WIS. PEDIGREE No. 1 RYE

This is practically a new variety of Fall Rye, originated at the Wisconsin Experiment Station, obtained by cross-breeding. It has undergone a process of many years' continuous selection and improvement on the Experiment fields of the State University before it was offered to the public. It was bred to produce uniformity of kernel and high yield and has proved a heavy yielder wherever grown. It is the most productive variety that was grown at the Wisconsin Experiment Station. The yields here in the Northwest have generally been 8 to 12 bushels more than was raised of common Rye. The kernel is uniformly very large, plump and of bluish green color. The heads are long. The straw is long, strong and stiff, not lodging readily even on rich soils. Wisconsin Pedigree No. 1 Rye was awarded the World Championship several times at the National Corn Expositions.

4674—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (14 lbs.), 45c. See current price list for larger quantities.

WISCONSIN COMMON WINTER RYE

No matter how you take care of it this Rye always returns a paying yield. It is a great stooler, of strong straw and has long heads filled from end to end with heavy kernels. It stands up well.

4678—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: Peck (14 lbs.), 40c. See current price list for larger quantities.

I MUST SAY THAT THE RED CROSS WHEAT I GOT FROM YOU, CERTAINLY LOOKS GOOD.

SAND OR HAIRY VETCH

15 TONS GREEN FORAGE ACRE PER

50 DAYS FROM PLANTING

SALZER'S WISCONSIN GROWN SAND VETCH

The Most Valuable Forage Plant For Fall Planting

Sand Vetches are more profitable than any Clovers, Cow Peas or other forage plants, they yield larger crops of more nutritious forage and are also better nitrogen gatherers and therefore more valuable as a soil improving crop.

The Sand Vetch is also known as Winter Vetch and Hairy Vetch. Up to a few years ago when the Salzer Seed Company took up its introduction, but little was known of Sand Vetch in the United States, however, since then it has been brought more generally to the notice of farmers both by private parties, as well as our Experimental Stations, and it is being used now more and more.

We offer European and also Wisconsin grown seed, both stocks are first class, of the highest vitality and purity; but our Wisconsin seed, which is grown in this neighborhood, is acclimated and adapted to our country, it is more hardy, pure, of higher vitality, of more vigorous growth and far superior to European grown stock, which is the only kind handled by other seedsmen.

The Sand Vetch is an annual plant, similar in growth to a Pea Vine, but the vines are more slender and are more thickly clad with leaves and side stems which furnish nice succulent feed. Individual plants will make a ten-foot growth before going to seed. They cover the ground with a dense mat of forage 2 feet in depth.

CULTURE OF SAND VETCH.

In the northern states Sand Vetches are mostly sown in July and August, at the rate of 30 to 40 lbs. of Vetches together with $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 bushel of Winter Rye. In the southern states, the planting is done from July up to November and the seed quite often sown during the last cultivation of corn or cotton. The seed is sown broadcast. We recommend to sow the Vetches together with a nurse crop, as the grain will greatly assist the Vetch in checking the weed growth, as the Vetches start rather slowly. The grain will also furnish variety if used for pasture and will provide stems on which the Vetch may climb, which will make it easier to cut and harvest the crop. For fertilizer, Vetch may be sown alone at the rate of 40 to 50 lbs. per acre.

Sand Vetch and Winter Rye for Hay or Pasture

Just the thing you have been looking for. A rich pasture or a bountiful hay crop. It is secured by sowing our mixture of Sand Vetch and Winter Rye. The method of culture is simple. Plow and harrow your field carefully and then seed at the rate of 70 lbs. of our mixture per acre, covering the seed about $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches. In about six weeks the field should be ready for pasture, or in nine weeks it will return a luxuriant crop of most excellent hay.

4676—PRICE OF SAND VETCH AND WINTER RYE MIXTURE: 70 lbs. (enough for one acre), $4.25, not prepaid. See also current price list.

WINTER GRAIN FOR THE SOUTH

RED RUST PROOF WINTER OATS

Very popular throughout the south, especially used for light sandy soils and also for low ground where other oats are much inclined to rust. It makes a large yield of fine, heavy grain. Can be sown in fall and spring from September to March. Our stock is Missouri grown.

4637—Lb., 20c, postpaid. Not prepaid: 8 lbs., (Peck), 45c. See current price list for larger quantities.

WINTER TURF OATS

The hardest and surest cropping oats for fall seeding. Their stooling qualities are remarkable, and they will soon cover the ground with a thick, heavy growth, furnishing excellent grazing during fall, winter and early spring without injury to the grain crops afterwards. Sow in September, $1\frac{1}{2}$ bu. to 2 bu. per acre.

4639—Lb., 25c, postpaid. Not prepaid: 8 lbs., (Peck), 75c. See current price list for larger quantities.

FACTS ABOUT SAND VETCH

It is a wonderful, rapid grower, and thrives with little moisture.

It withstands cold and is quite hardy everywhere in Wisconsin.

It makes a splendid green forage, producing all the way from 15 to 20 tons, and this forage is greatly relished by horses and all kinds of farm animals.

It is very nutritious and makes fine milk producing food.

It is also an excellent pasture plant and if sown in August or September, it makes good fall pasturage, the crop in 50 days being about two feet high. Even if closely eaten, it will prevent soil washing during Winter and early Spring, thus effecting a great saving of soluble mineral fertilizers contained in the soil. In the southern states it is pastured in fall and spring, generally up to the first days of April. The stock is then taken off and if the plants are then allowed to mature they will reseed the ground for the next year, but if pastured until June the stand will be destroyed.

When intended for hay, the Sand Vetch should be left standing until the flowers have for the most part given way to the pods and if sown with a grain crop, it is generally cut when the grain is heading out, before it is matured. If sown alone, Sand Vetch will yield about $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 tons per acre. This hay is of the best quality imaginable, more nutritious than Clover and is relished by all kinds of stock.

As a fertilizer the Sand Vetch is of the greatest value. It improves wonderfully the condition and productiveness of the land for crops to follow, much more so than any Clovers or Cow Peas. The Department of Agriculture estimates the value of a plowed under crop of this Vetch as equivalent to putting into the ground $16.00 to $45.00 worth of commercial fertilizer per acre.

SOIL—As the name would indicate, Sand Vetch has a special adaption for sandy soils, it has a decided capacity to grow on light soil, too poor to produce crops of Clover, Spring Vetches, Cow Peas, etc., but it will, of course, grow more vigorously and give larger crops on richer soils.

SEED—It pays well for farmers to let the Vetches go to seed, there is always a good demand for same. Our farmers here are growing Vetches with a nurse crop of Winter Rye and thrashing them together; this seed can then be easily separated.

RAPE

Of the forage or fodder crops that admirably lend themselves to midsummer, late summer and early fall sowing, there is no feeding crop that is more valuable or better adapted for this purpose than Rape.

Sow in July, August and September. It grows well during the cool, moist weather and is ready for pasture in six to eight weeks from date of seeding. It makes a large yielding, nutritious, succulent pasturage all through the fall, and in the South also during the winter and early spring. It is eaten by all stock; hogs and sheep are especially fond of it. The fattening properties of Rape are equal to Clover. On an average, one acre will carry 12 to 15 sheep for six weeks to two months. Sow in drills 2 to 3 lbs., or broadcast 4 to 5 lbs. per acre.

$1875.00 FROM 30 BUSHELS OF SALZER'S IRISH COBBLER POTATOES! $1875.00 from three acres of ground! These figures speak for themselves, they prove decisively the wisdom of planting Salzer's Northern Grown Seed Potatoes. We grow this splendid seed stock on our farms in Northern Minnesota; here we grow larger and better potatoes for seed, than can be grown in other districts where the soil and climate is not so desirable. And, the best part of it is that Salzer's Select Seed Potatoes cost no more, and often cost less, than inferior seed stock.

Read this:—Mr. D. P. Elam, 1408 Haskell Street, Austin, Texas, bought 30 bushel Salzer's Irish Cobblers and planted them on a little less than 3 acres of ground. He fertilized and irrigated this crop. On June 10, 1925, he was completing the harvest and had already sold 800 bushel, or 48000 lbs., for which he received $3\frac{1}{4}$ c to 4c per lb. Figure it out yourself,—\$1875.00! Sit down and write out your order at once for some of Salzer's vigorous, northern grown, hardy, and virile seed potatoes. See current price list for larger quantities than quoted.

NORTHERN GROWN SEEDS, La Crosse, Wis.

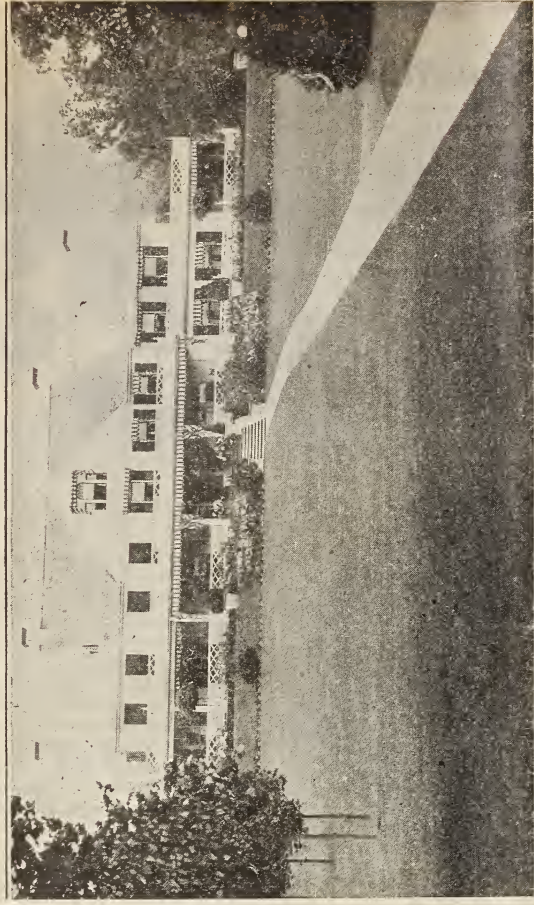

Salzer's Radium Lawn Grass Seed

One Pound Sows 200 Square Feet

Fall sowing of grass seed should be widely practiced, as one obtains the benefit of thoroughly warmed ground in addition to the autumn rains, which is especially advantageous. The young grass will withstand the winter, while the weeds will be frozen out, enabling your lawn to get a good start next spring. Even with a well established lawn, it is a very good plan to sow additional grass seed every autumn, to obtain a thick, carpety, effect. Leaflet, "How To Make A Lawn," free upon request.

Mrs. Wayne E. Stevens, 808 Main St., Alamosa, Colo., writes, "The Radium Lawn Grass seed that I ordered from you last spring, is all you recommend it to be, and even more."
